Story Attempting to Prove

Copyright by American Press Asso-

Professor Markham, who occupies the chair of anatomy at --- college, is a materialist. His friend Taylor, profeasor of psychology, is an extremist on the opposite side, taking the ground that man is an eternal spirit, inclosed in a material body. The two were discussing questions based upon these two very different opinions, when Professor Markham said:

from Quarries.

R. N. J.

ROAD TROF LEY

s, Secty and Trees

erials.

KINDLING WOOD

Montclair, N. J

INK

.... $1,500,000

.....$2,300,000

....$12,000,000

POSITARY.

ER, Vice-Pres.

RNSWORTH

nt Cashier.

PLETE.

Newark.

LD.N.J

PIELD, N. J

Take, for instance, love. To be more particular, let us confine our selves to love between the sexes. You men of spiritual bent consider that this a spiritual condition, a mingling of be, in the initiative at least, simply a device of nature to compel obedience to one of her laws, procreation." "Which we deny. Love is eternal."

"Then when a couple who love are separated by death why is the place of the one who has been taken filled by another?"

"Cases of real love are rare. In such cases the place of the departed one is not filled by another. I have known or heard of several instances of this true love, but only one where the conditions I have stated were fulfilled. It was related to me when I was studyng medicine in Paris, and the principal figure in the story had been a professor in the university where I received my education.

"Jean Leroux, a bachelor of thirtysix, a botanist, was one morning tramping through the southern provfaces, hunting for plant specimens, when he came upon a chateau in whose gardens were many beautiful flowers. In his enthusiasm he jumped the wall and was soon lost to everything except the objects of his study. He was bending over a variety of azaea which he had never seen, though be was familiar with it through his books, when suddenly he was recalled to himself by a musical feminine voice saying: "'Monsieur is absorbed in the flow

"Leroux looked up into a pair eyes that were looking into his. "Now, if you anatomists were to claim that love acts as two chemical affinities, which on meeting become one and the same substance, I could in a measure sympathize with you. Both these persons admitted afterward to the other that the moment their eyes met they loved. "'Pardon,' sald Leroux, 'I am a trespasser. I have been led by my love for my profession to examine your plants. I will withdraw at once." "'On the contrary, you are welcome to study my plants to your heart's content, and if there are any that you covet I shall be happy to give them to roux and the lady wandered about in the gardens, he giving her much information about her plants. She loved them for themselves; but, loving them, it pleased her to learn of their nature. She was Mile. de la Fontayne, who lived with her old mother on place, her father being dead. Made molselle was some half dozen years Leroux's junior, and since both of them had passed the heyday of youth it cannot be claimed that the love which flashed into being between them was of the grosser type. Leroux when asked afterward if that was not the happiest morning of his life replied that it was far happier than any he had known before, but no happier than those that followed. "Mile. de la Fontayne would not per mit Leroux to depart without partak ing of luncheon, or, rather, the second breakfast of the French people, and after the meal they returned to the garden. In spirit the professor never left the chateau so long as Mile, de la Fontayne remained there. But she did be lectured, and the two found it excruciating to be apart. No great time, taking up a newspaper, read a notice therefore, passed before they were married, residing during the winter in a Franco-American, who had recently Paris and in the summer at the De la | returned on | visit from his adopted Fontayne chateau.

"These two lived, so far as their relations to each other were concerned. in perfect happiness. No word of anger ever passed between them." "Was not that the result of normal nervous system perfectly assimilated?" asked the listener. "I do not admit it. I believe that from their meeting they had become no children were born to them. It was | produces progreation." a case of unity between two individthe love of the one who was taken con- same premises in a spiritual sense. We rears after the pair were marris er ber death was simply that he did not now see her. Hid not hear her voice; there was no contact. The wife was buried in Pere Lachaise cemetery. not that the wide ar might go there to weep, for he did not consider her mortal past as aught except corrup tion, but that he night conveniently visit her grave occasionally to see that the plants she best loved and which he had placed there be nurtured."

"Mme Leroux fell ill and died ten | assume that all things die."

"Why," asked Professor Markham "if there was only corruption beneath the sod were the thrubs the woman had loved planted there? Corruption has no appreciation?"

"In you materialists," responded Pro-* fessor Taylor, "there is a vacuum where the faculty of sentiment should exist. The widows did not place the flowers there for the dead, but for the living woman. To him the thread of her life had never teen broken. Moreover in our natures there is that which we call assiciation, and there was to him a pleasure in associating the plants she loved with the place where ber mortal part lay.

"One evening about sunset Leroux entered the cemetery of Pere Lachaise to visit his wife's grave and see that all was in order there. As he approached it he was astonished to see a man, uncovered, bending over the mound, apparently, absorbed in grief. two souls. We materialists take it to What could it mean? Leroux had never heard his wife speak of a brother or other male relative near and dear to her, and he wondered who this mourner could be. Advancing, he addressed the stranger:

"'Pardon me. May I ask why you are thus grieving for my wife? "The man turned. The grief bi countenance had worn was turned to anger. "'Your wife! Then you are the man who robbed me of my love." "'Your love! She never had but one love, and that surely was not yours Who are you? "'One who loved the woman who lies there'-Leroux. 'She is in heaven. Had you wednesday the sevent couth do nighest bidder, on loved her as you say, you would not speak of her as lying there." "'I say I loved her, reiterated the other fiercely, and she loved me. We

"Real love is hever angry. It may grieve for another's fault, but it can-"I left ber for a foreign land,

America. There I have been since then; there I prospered. I returned heard that some one had won her hand, though I know that no one but iffry-five feet more or less to the easterly line of the Morris Canal; thence (8) running in a southmyself could have won her heart; that affair before she married me she knew that it was not true love and would pain us to speak of it; therefore she refrained. "'Who are you to assume this you who if you received any love at all.

received a dead love. "The man, provoked by the uncompromising certainty of one he considered his rival, vias by this time beside himself with arger.

"'Had we venpons I would soon convince you that I am the rightful mate of the woman who lies there: that you are all interloper. The only recompense you can grant me for the comorrow morning in the Bois de Boulogne, he stid.

Since my tife through a mistake once may have thought enough of you to engage her elf to you I shall not harm a hair of your head.'
"The stranger felt convulsively for a you are not a (bward I shall bear from you. Then he strode out of the inclosure and d wn the avenue toward the cemetery gate.

Bombardier. Leroux calm as when he entered the cerhetery, attended to what he had come to do, then returned to Paris. On the way he tried to think of some mention of a love affair his wife had passed through before meeting him, but he could not. Nevertheless be was cintent to remain in igno

"This is whit I call true love, and I will show you that the stranger who manifested all the outward appearance not remain there very long-at least of love had not experienced it. Not permanently, for Leroux was obliged | six months after Professor Leroux had woman he believed he loved Leroux. of the marrifge of Jules Bombardier.

"Leroux lived the same life, so far as women were concerned, that he had lived with his wife. In other words, after her death he continued to live with her in the spirit."

The narrafpr paused for a moment thoughtfully, then concluded: "If I have not proved my case I have at least mad it equally strong and far one being. Nor can it be said that they | more acceptable than your theory that were united through their children, for love is but a means by which nature

"I admit that you have," replied uals whose individuality was lost in Markham. There is a barrier that each other. And I shaff show you by neither of ut can pass. I reason from as incident which occurred that this analogy based on cause and effect that ove continued after they were sep- I see in material things about me, arated by death. I cannot prove that | while your seasoning is based on the inued the same as before, for we can are both confined within our narrow not see beyond the veil that Provi- sphere. Nevertheless from the foundadence has hung between us and that thon of the world love has been recogwhich lies beyond. I must confine my-nized as a civine attribute indeed, the off to the one who remained here only divine attribute we possess in the flesh. If it is not eternal we may well

BEGIN THE

by having telephone service installed in your home or place of business.

It will mean a year without worry, because with a telephone at your command you have a servant that never grumbles and one that is always willing to do your

It may not cost as much a

YORK TELEPHONE

C. A. WOOLSEY, Local Agent 294 Bloomfield Avenue,

Montclair, N. J.

MASTER'S NOTICE OF SALE IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY. Between Mary Rozella Kilroe, complainant, and Harriet Ann Vreeland, et als., defendants. NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of a decree for sale made in the above stated cause bearing date the seventh day of November, nineof Newark, Essex County, New Jersey, the fee simple of all those three certain tracts or parcels of land and premises, situate in the Town of Bloomfield, in the county of Essex and State of New Jersey, bounded and described as follows:

FIRST TRACT: Beginning at a point in the middle of East Pascaic avenue, formerly called the road leading from Bloomfield to Acquackanonck, and in the line of land formerly of Robert.

Day, now A. Bjornberg; thence (1) running along said line of East Passaic avenue, north thirty-one to do penance and claim my love. I Payne; thence (2) north eighty one degrees there there was along the line of land form myself could have won her heart; that she had died and was buried here. I came to her grive to weep for her, and fate has brought me the man who believed he occurried my place."

"I know not what this means," Leroux rejoined. If my wife had a love affair before she married me she knew that it was not true love and would the more cannot be more formerly of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of the point or place of the more of less to the centre of less > the Morris Canal and in the southerly line of the Morris Canal and in the southerly line of the tract above described; thence running along said easterly side of the Morris Canal in a northerly direction two hundred and twenty-six feet more less to a point distant twenty feet southerly from the southeasterly abultment of the canal bridge; nce south seventy nine degrees east sixty five degrees, twenty four minutes west two hundred and sixteen feet to the said southerly line of the was equal to the test and read the

Rozella Kilroe, Cornelius Vreeland, husband of Harriet Ann Vreeland and Abram Terhane, husto be at the university in Paris, where met him weeping at the grave of the lam informed by the complainants solicitor that the above described premises are encum-bered by a mortgage held by the Beneficial Building & Loan Association, upon which there is due eight hundred dollars, and for taxes the sum of three hundred and lifty-six dollars and nine cents, and taxes for the year 1911 not yet ascertained, and an assessment for Myrtle ave nue improvement two hundred and thirty one dollars and eight cents, besides future accruing interest and costs, if any, upon said several liens

Dated Newark, N. J., December 11, 1911.
FREDEBICK R. GUILD, Special Master in Chancery of New Jersey,
434 Prudential Building, Newark, N. J.
W. H. Parry, Esq., Solicitor.

ESTATE OF GEORGE PETER

Surrogate of the County of Easez, thus day made, on the application of the understaned, Executrix of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber, under eath or affirmation, their claims and demands signing the estate of said deceased, within nine months from this date, or they will be forever harral from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber. Pilch & Pilch, Proctors

Notice of Settlement

Dated November 27, 1911.

sed, who was the administratrix Mary Frances Peole deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Essex on Friday, the fifth day of January ADDISON H. HAZELTINE

FORES! FIRES.

They Are Sometimes a Gain to Thosa Whe Own the Timber. People who have read accounts of learn that, in place of loss, such fires are sometimes a gain to the owner. The loss in lumber if cut within a few years is small, and the removal of underbrush reduces the cost of lumber-be a benefit and not an injury seems so novel that some proof is necessary. forest service declares the actual fire loss in national reserves for the last three years has amounted to only onetenth of 1 per cent. From some fifty ted loss from fire is 2 per cent in twen- has been exhausted. These lights are cent, and another, during sixty, has which is thereby raised into a white had an annual loss of one-sixteenth of per cent. Twenty-eight companies report their loss since organization as "hardly worth mentioning."

The point of these reports, so prising to those unacquainted with the lumber business is that the fires, while they kill the trees, do not consume the trunk. The less severe fires do not necessarily kill the trees. Worse fires do this by burning the underbrush around the trees and perhaps the tops of the trees. But the trunk of the tree. the log from which the boards are to be cut, is seldom touched. The killed timber makes as good lumber as the other, the only difference being that it is necessary to cut it within a limited

White pine or hemlock in the upper Mississippi valley must be cut the first or the second winter following the fire or worms will injure the lumber. The to his family, to jump from behind a two year period applies in the "inland empire" and to the hemlock on the slopes of the Cascades. Western spruce need not be cut for three years to have a scandal and stop shooting by foreigners in the grave districts.

Section a Tast and improvement mail or instant or instant empire and take the place of the quality the said Town Council.

Section a Tast and improvement mail or instant or instant empire or instant or instant empire and the said Town Council.

Section a Tast and improvement mail or instant or instant empire or instant or instant empire or instant e cedar has no limit, and trees burned fifty years ago are now being turned into shingles.-Jonas Howard in Chicago Tribune.

EQUAL TO THE TEST.

Daniel Webster, the Boy, at His En trance to Exeter Academy. Almost a year passed, however, be fore the plan so long cherished was fairly started and Daniel, dressed in brand new homemade suit and astride sidesaddle, rode with his father to Exeter to be entered at the famous acedemy founded by John Phillips The principal then and forty years thereafter was Dr. Benjamin Abbot, one of the greatest teachers our country has yet produced. As the doctor was fil the duty of examining the new pupil feil to Joseph S. Buckminster. then an usher at the academy, but destined to influence strongly the reli gious life of New England

It was the custom of the doctor, we are told, to conduct the examination of applicants with pompous ceremony and that, imitating him, young Buck minster summoned Webster to his presence, put on his hat and said 'Well, sir, what is your age?" "Four teen," was the reply. "Take this Bible, my lad, and read that chapter." The passage given him was Si Luke's dramatic description of the conspiring of Judas with the priests and scribes, of the last supper, of the berayal by Judas, of the three denials of Peter and the scene in the house of the high priest. But young Webster and with a fervor such as Master Buckminster had never listened to before. "Young man," said he, "you are qualified to enter this institution," and no more questions were put to him .-John Bach McMaster, "Daniel Web-A Word to Study.

coolrijtung-that's the technical and locally accepted name of the automo bile in Flanders. "Snell" (note that "rapid." "paardeloos" means "horseless," "zoondeerspoorweg" is the recognized way of describing a thing "without rails," and, finally, "pitroollitung" implies a thing "driven by petroleum." So you have it, quite simply, and mere white whizzers and drab devils are outclassed. But how'd you like to be hit by a real "snellpaardeloosz"-etc.?-St. Louis Republic.

"My son," said Mrs. McGudley, "before I married your father I made him promise that he would not smoke or play cards for money."

"Times have changed. If you decide to propose to a woman I want you to exact a similar assurance."-Washing-

"Mr. Whilker, I have seen it stated that women's feet are becoming lar ger. How about that? "There may be some truth in it, but mong all my customers I don't know a single one that it applies to, madam." -Chicago Tribune.

Knows No Pity.
"Is he very bitter against the man who ran away with his wife?" "Almost too bitter. He insists upon getting a divorce so that she can marry dm."-Houston Post.

"He has a good wife, hasn't be?" "I should say so. He can always bor row money from her when he goes broke himseif."-Detroit Free Press. ELECTRIC ILLUMINATION.

The Difference Between the Are Light and the Incandescent. It is a curious fact that while the great forest fires may be surprised to average man knows that, roughly speaking, there are two kinds of "electrie light"-the are light and the incandescent light-he has a hazy notion of the difference between the two. The are light and the incapdescent light differ wholly in principle, in

That a forest fire could in any way brilliancy, in appearance and in the mode of use. The distinguishing difference to an ordinary observer be-The statement has been made that tween are and incandescent lights may more timber is destroyed by fire every be briefly stated thus; Arc lights burn year than is converted into lumber. In the open air with carbon stick or As a matter of fact, the report of the pencils, the points or ends of which are beated to a white heat and gradnally consumed.

are produced inside small glass globes lumber companies the highest admit- of various shapes from which the air ty years. Another company estimates caused by the passage of electricity its fire loss for fifty-two years at 1 per | through a fine resisting wire or thread. or incandescent light without being consumed on account of the absence of air. If air leaks in the filament immediately burns up, and that is the end of it.

terrible as well led soldiers-is their stolid view of death. In China a coolle anywhere can be bought for $200, paid miles, from Wusung to Shangbal, attest was built in 1876 we all remember that a native whose business of tugging boats along the river was threat ened by the new enterprise deliberate AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ly walked in front of the train. His death, of course, accomplished the purpose of the mandarins in starting an effective boycott against the innoration. The repetitions of this sacrifice on the national altar (as they see it) on the Yuethan, Peking-Hankow and other railways have been frequent. The Chinese method of suicide among unhappily betrothed girls is to take struction of a storm sewer in that portion an overdose of oplum. Among men James street, hereinafter more particular the larynx is opened or the victim hangs himself, which last is the method official Peking favors for the political non gratus.-J. S. Thomson's

The Travels of a Jewel. Fanny Kemble when in the United States years ago was persecuted by the attentions of a wealthy lumatic. When finally rejected by her he flung a package upon the table, exclaiming, "Well, at least take this!" and disappeared. The parcel proved to contain a very beautiful jewel. The actress a very beautiful jewel. The actress course three degrees twenty eight minutes were was not long permitted to retain it. two hundred and twenty (23) feet more or less She saw no more of her persecutor, but did not remain under any sense of obligation to him. The gem was stolen from her before she quit the United States. She forgot all about it in the course of the years that followed. A very long time afterward she was in Italy. A peddler displayed the con-Italy. A peddler displayed the contents of his pack before her at Sor- Attest rento. There lay the long lost jewel. RAYMOND F. DAVIS. Through whose hands it had passed there was nothing to show.

Accidents at Home A man who, despite the fact that I has several grandchildren, is still fond of his club and the pleasures which lie beyond the domestic circle said in defense of his weakness that he went of out to prolong his life "and to avoid of New Jersey, as follows:

Section i. That the water mains of the plant dangers." "According to a table re-cently published by an accident insur-through the following street of said town: ance company," he said, "more than one-quarter of the accidents happen at home," and in proof of the state ment be showed this statistical record through the following street of said town:

Olive street, from present terminus of the water main to the East Orange line, a distance of 180 feet, 4 inch pipe.

Section 2. That the aforesaid extensions shall be made under the direction of the Water Committee of the mid Town Comment. ment he showed this statistical record of accidents: At home, 25.9 per cent; pedestrians, 18.2; automobiles, 11.1; recreation, 11.0; horses and vehicles, Attento 9.9; on street cars 72; on railway trains, 4.3; bicycles, 1.2; steamship travel, 1.0; miscellaneous, 10.2.-New York Tribune.

Cost of Revolutionary War. Justin Winsor in his "The Westward Movement" quotes Thomas Jef ferson as his authority for the statement that the money cost of establishing American independence was, in round numbers, $140,000,000. According to the same authority, the war of the Revolution cost England just about five times the above figure—that is to say, about $700,000,000. Thus it present day -Americans any one of date of this order, by setting up such notice whom is worth much more than it cost to establish the independence of the same at least once in each week for a like this nation.—New York American.

this nation.—New York American.

Taking His Mesis Out. asks the village probe, who is garnering information from the former resident who is home from the city for a few days.

"Not until after I have eaten them," wearly responds the unwilling victim. -Judge's Library.

Better Kept Quiet. Patient (angrily)-The size of your bill makes my blood boll. Doctor-Then that will be $20 more for sterills ing your system .- Boston Transcript.

Do all the good you can and herm where yes cannot do good.

ORDINANCE.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A STORM SEWER IN A CERTAIN PORTION OF MACLIS AVE-NUE, IN THE TOWN OF BLOOMFIELD, IN THE COUNTY OF ESSEX AND STATE O

The term "arc" is an old one adopted years ago, referring to the supposed improvement could be filed with him and designating the time and place whose and shape of an electric spark in passing from one carbon point to the other.—Harper's Weekly.

LIFE CHEAP IN CHINA.

Clerk stating that objections in writing to the said proposed improvement could be filed with him and designating the time and place whose and where the said Council would meet to consider such objections having been made thereto;

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the Town of Essex and State of New Jersey, as follows:

Section 1: That a storm sewer be constructed in the said Town of Bloomfield, beginning in Maolis avenue at the intersection of the same with the centre like of Thomas street; thence A Coolie Will Give His Life For $200

Paid to His Family.

The most grewsome feature of the fatalistic Chinese and Japanese character—the quality which makes them terrible as well led soldiers—is their Section 2. That all of the expense and cost of the aforesaid improvement shall be asses

Mayor of the Town of Bloomfield RAYMOND F. DAVIS.

ORDINANCE.

evening of the fourteenth day of November, nineteen hundred and eleven, a resolution was adopted by the unanimous vote of the said Town Council to initiate proceedings for the con-Whereas, the Town Clerk has filed in his affidavits showing that the said resolution to-gether with a notice signed by the Town Clerk stating that objections in writing to the said proposed improvement could be filed with him and designating the time and place, when and where the said council would meet to consider such objections, has been duly advertised, posted and served according to law and no objections having been made thereto;

Now therefore, be it ordained by the Town Council of the Town of Bloomfield, in the County of Essex and State of New Jersey, as follows:

ORDINANCE. AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE ESSEX AND STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

mittee of the said Town Council.
Ordinance adopted December 18, 1911.
WILLIAM HAUSER,
Mayor of the Town of Bioomfield.

Essex County Orphans' Court. IN THE MATTER OF THE ES-

Order directing executrix to notify creditors Caroline Hock, executrix of the estate

Pursuant to the order of ISSAC SHORNTHAL.

Burrogate of the County of Essex, this day made, on the application of the undersigned, executrix of said deceased, hotice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation, their claims and demando against the cetate of said deceased, within nine months from his date, or they will be forever barred from proceduing or recovering the same against the autocriber.

Banksett and Barrocki Process. Barrett and Barrett, Proctors.

Harry Maier, the hardware dealer-Nos. 449 451 Bloomfield avenue, is displaying a large new stock of Yale & Towne blunt door checks, and is also making a fine window display of general hardware.-Advt